Triodos Energy Transition Europe Fund aims to mitigate the effects of climate change by increasing the share of clean energy in the total energy mix and by reducing CO₂ emissions.

The fund invests in wind farms, solar photovoltaic, battery storage and solar thermal installations across Europe. The fund has sustainable investment as its objective as set out in article 9 of the SFDR. The sustainable investment objectives of Triodos Energy Transition Europe Fund are:

- Increase proportion of zero emission energy;
- Enable a 24/7 reliable zero emission energy system;
- Support entrepreneurs to accelerate the energy transition.

The product may be exposed to risks. Please refer to the prospectus and the KID for more detail.

Highlights

- The monthly return of the fund was 1.5% (YTD: 6.5%).
- July's positive performance was primarily driven by an unrealised increase in the valuation of battery storage investments.
- Total proceeds from the investments were EUR 2.2m. There was a follow-on equity subscription of EUR 0.4m in a fund-to-fund investment, SET Ventures III.
- Signed on the sidelines of the Council of Energy Ministers meeting in Luxembourg, the first-ever EU tripartite agreement on energy storage underscores the growing recognition that battery storage is essential to integrate higher shares of renewable energy, enhance grid flexibility and strengthen energy security. The agreement reinforces the long-term outlook for energy storage across Europe and supports the investment case for battery assets such as Icecreek in Germany and GridBeyond in the UK. For the Triodos Energy Transition Europe Fund, it aligns closely with the strategy of increasing exposure to battery storage and other flexibility solutions that enable a more resilient, renewable-based energy system.

Fund manager

Sonja de Ruiter

" As geopolitical tensions rise and the urgency to reduce greenhouse gas emissions intensifies, the need for the energy transition has never been greater. To meet the European 2030 targets and ensure Europe's clean energy future as well as its energy independence, private capital must scale rapidly ."
